

LINKING SCIENCE & LITERACY IN THE K-8 CLASSROOM

NSTApress
NATIONAL SCIENCE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Edited by Rowena Douglas, Michael P. Klentschy, and Karen Worth, With Wendy Binder

Contents

About the Editors	ix
Introduction	xi
Karen Worth

Section 1:

Linking Science and Literacy in the Classroom

Chapter 1	3
Visions of Inquiry: Science
Hubert M. Dyasi
Case Stories Introduction	17
Wendy Binder
Case Story A:	19
On Beyond Ordinary (Swansea, South Carolina)

Section 2:

Science and Oral Discourse

Case Story B:	31
Powering Oral Language With the Fuel of Science
(Redwood City, California)
Chapter 2	43
Talk in the Science Classroom: Looking at What Students and Teachers Need to Know and Be Able to Do Jeffrey Winokur and Karen Worth

Section 3:

Science and Writing

Case Story C:	61
One Teacher's Rocky Road to Writing in Science
(Tucson, Arizona)

Case Story D: 75
Writing and Science: The Perfect Chemistry
(Seattle, Washington)

Chapter 3 95
Young Children's Own Illustrated Information Books:
Making Sense in Science Through Words and Pictures
Maria Varelas, Christine C. Pappas, and the ISLE Team

Chapter 4 117
Using the Science Writing Heuristic to Promote Understanding of Science Conceptual Knowledge in Middle School
Brian Hand

Chapter 5 127
Comprehension Strategies and the Scientist's Notebook:
Keys to Assessing Student Understanding
Ronald D. DeFronzo

Chapter 6 149
Writing to Learn: Science Notebooks, a Valuable Tool to Support Nonfiction Modes/Genres of Writing Marleen Kotelman, Toni Sacconi, and Joan Gilbert

Chapter 7 163
Supporting Middle School Students in Developing Scientific Explanations
LeeAnn M. Sutherland, Katherine L. McNeill, Joseph S. Krajcik, and Kalonda Colson

Section 4:

Science and Reading

Case Story E: 185
"Is This Science or Reading, Mrs. Heying?" (Garnaville, Iowa)

Case Story F: 207
Treasures From Home (Tenafly, New Jersey)

Chapter 8 221
Reading and Writing in the Service of Inquiry-Based Science Gina N. Cervetti, P. David Pearson, Marco A. Bravo, and Jacqueline Barber

Chapter
Construct
The Jour
Joan Armc

Chapter
Developi
Teaching Textual To

Section

Science,

Case Sto
Una Jom
(A Learn

Chapter
Using Div
The Bene
Ann S. Ro

Chapter
English L
Science-Mercedes

Section

Impleme

Case Sto
Taking Li (Middle

Case Sto
Planting

Chapter
Professio
to Supp
Iris Weiss

*Chapter 1 gration of with perm

ng

75	Chapter 9	245
	Constructing Science-Literacy Workshops: The Journey From Powerful Ideas to Classroom Practice Joan Armon and Linda Morris
95	Chapter 10	261
	Developing Scientific Literacy Through the Use of Literacy Teaching Strategies Textual Tools Study Group, University of Michigan 117
	Section 5: Science, Literacy, and Culture 127
	Case Story G:	289
	Una Jornada de Aprendizaje Valiosa Para Compartir (A Learning Journey Worth Sharing Out) (Anaheim, California)
149	Chapter 11	305
	Using Diversity as a Strength in the Science Classroom: The Benefits of Science Talk Ann S. Rosebery and Josiane Hudicourt-Barnes
163	Chapter 12	321
	English Language Development and the Science-Literacy Connection Mercedes Durón-Flores and Elena Maciel
	Section 6: Implementation and Policy Issues 185
	Case Story H:	337
	Taking Literacy Integration out of the Closet (Middletown, Rhode Island)
207	Case Story I:	351
	Planting Seeds One at a Time (Timonium, Maryland)
221	Chapter 13*	359
	Professional Development and Strategic Leadership to Support Effective Integration of Science and Literacy Iris Weiss

*Chapter 13, "Professional Development and Strategic Leadership to Support Effective Integration of Science and Literacy," is copyright © 2005 Horizon Research, Inc., and is reprinted with permission from the Horizon Research, Inc., website (www.horizon-research.com).

Chapter 14	373
Science Education in a No Child Left Behind, Standards-Based World
Michael P. Klentschy
Chapter 15	391
Science IDEAS: Making the Case for Integrating Reading and Writing in Elementary Science as a Key Element in School Reform
Nancy R. Romance and Michael R. Vitale
Chapter 16	407
The Administrator's Role in Supporting Science and Literacy in Classrooms
Michael P. Klentschy and Patricia M. Maruca
Contributors	427
Index	431

Ab

Rowena sistant ex ence Tea Division Science of Educa

Michael in El Ce
tive posi Unified named t tion Lea

Karen V
ter in C levels, a related t educatic

Wendy
the Prof Associat
els and l
Center
Science